hours and startled the mourners as much as Rip van Winkie does his wife by suddenly returning to life. During another of these periods, when he was thought dead, Mr. Kane was conscious during the entire time, and has published his experience in a book called "Adrit on the Black Wild Tide," which may be termed a connecting link between this world and the great beyond.
The work of Chapitain Kane at the Brooklyn Navy-Yard has been characterized by an absence of the dull monotony of religious services. He has inaugurated monthly entertainments for the marines, and in other ways has made happier the restricted lives of Unite Sam's scatzeres.
In addition to his duties as chapitain, Mr. Kane has found time to renew old acquaintances since his return to Brooklyn, and will probably make the city his permanent home. He is President of the Illan Club, a social and literary organization of both sexes which was recently formed in Brooklyn by his admirers, who adopted for the Club pame the title of his most noted novel. He is also an enthusiastic horseman, and almost any fine day may be seen in the Park or on the Boule-vard behind his handsome chestnut Norman. The Brooklyn Board of Aldermen will take action Monday on the proposal to close Bowne street between Richards and Van Brunt streets. The project is meeting opposition from nearly all the property-helder the neighborhood, but is backed by the Henry R. Worthington Hydraulic Works, n whose interests the Board of Aldermen is

Mr. Gibbons, who is acting for the property bolders, stated to an Evening Works property lookers, stated to an Evening Works preportes to-day that in case the Aldermen close the street, an injunction will be applied for by Attorneys (approx and Pattison to prevent the hydralic company from getting control of the street, "The only excuse the Aldermen offer for closing the street," said Mr. Gibbons, "Is that it is a lonely place and serves as a recruiting ground for thieves and toughs. They also assert that it has an immoral influence on the community, although there is a police station within nair a block.

"If the stroet were closed," he went on, "it would be worth at least $150,000 to Worthington. An objection to closing it is that it is needed as a thoroughiare, and trucks would have to go three blocks out of their way to get to the dock. It would also jopardize property in case of fire."

It is claimed that the hydraulic company has a pull on the Board of Aldermen, and will get wintever it asks for. A lew years ago it secured the right to lay private tracks for its cars on certain streets and it uses other streets as a junk-yard.

First Stake Event of 1893 to Be Run at Guttenburg on Jan. 2

What Worthington Hydraulic JOCKEY CASTLE SUSPENDED.

- Jockeys Ruled Off Yesterday.

The Memphis and Nashville clubs have been admitted to the Western Turf Congress, as predicted in yesterday's Evesino World. This action of the Nashville Ciub was undoubtedly precipitated by the prospective class of dates next Spring. The West side Ciub, besides its clash with Louisville and Loxington, has a bitter war at home with its rival, the Cumberland Park Ciub, and was doubtless auxious to get into the fold at once. It can make a better fight with the Congress at its back. Memphis joined simply on the principle that a stitch in time saves aite. The Congress is now the strongest turf confederacy in America. The Washington Park Ciub is the only association of prominence not a member. been admitted to the Western Turf Congress.

The crack two-year-old filly of Gloucester, Starlight, is not expected to live. A few days ago the filly was entered in a mile race. On the morning of the race she was taken out and worked three furiongs at top speed with 130 pounds up. She finished nowhere in the race, going badly lame. In addition she has a bad attack of influenza. Starlight was the best two-year-old at the South Jersey track, and her loss will be severely left.

The reason for Jockey Morrivs absence from the saidle is said to be that he is in hiding from the officers of the law, who want him for shooting a man in Viginia.

Dr. Burke Complains of the Alleged Detectives Around His House.

LONG ISLAND CIEV. Dec. 10. - Aldermen Comiskey and Claven called at Mayor Glea-son's office to-day and demanded to know if City Clerk Thomas Burke had resigned. They said they were informed that he had, in order to nullify the mandamus ordering him to send back election returns for correction, Foxford Broke the Talent's Heart which is returnable before Justice Bartlett in Supreme Court Dec. 17.

This, if true, would render it necessary to apply for another mandamus. The Aldermen could get no information from the Mayor. No one about the City Hall knows where City Clerk Burke is at present.
